

DALTON'S CASE BEING ARGUED.

Assessor's Fate May be Decided by the Jury Late
This Afternoon.

This morning W. W. Foote made the opening argument for the people in the case against Assessor Henry P. Dalton, his province being to sum up the evidence.

"Gentlemen, it is for you to consider the evidence in this case fairly, impartially, dispassionately, and to render your verdict honestly and fearlessly," he began. "Some remarks have been made about my appearance. In this case, but I don't think they were intended to be insulting. Mr. Snook has made a number of jokes, but I don't think he meant any harm. He is a good sort of a boy, but needs spanking occasionally."

NO PERSONAL HOSTILITY.
"Now, I have no personal hostility toward Mr. Dalton, no personal feeling against him whatever."

"So far as I am personally concerned, I don't care the snap of my fingers whether he goes free or not, but as citizens and taxpayers it is our business to see that the county is protected from robbery at the hands of the county officials and their confederates. It is a public duty to punish malfeasance in office."

"The evidence in this case shows that Dalton gave an order for books which he didn't need, to George Oakes, who couldn't fill it, that he might get the money. He did get the money, but the county never got the books."

"According to Mr. Dalton's story he had loaned Oakes various sums ranging through a series of nearly eight years, but never took a receipt, a note or other evidence of indebtedness; that he never asked Oakes for a return of any of this money, any interest or any security. These amounts he has testified, aggregate $2,500. He alleges that he gave Oakes the order to collect a portion of this money, and if Oakes gave him the money he received in payment of the books he would have no means to pay for making the books."

"You all saw poor little Oakes, and can judge whether he is responsible or not. If he is responsible, Mr. Dalton, how could he pay the Emperor?"

BARRED BY STATUTE.
"Gentlemen, Dalton admits that all but seven or eight hundred dollars of the money he alleges Oakes owed him was barred by the statute of limitations on the 15th of August, when these books were given. He could not have collected the money even if Oakes had been financially solvent, which he is not."

"Now, mark, this whole transaction was for the purpose of putting money into Dalton's pocket. No one else got a cent of it. Nobody else was to profit from the deal. He used Stedman and Oakes to get these orders hypodermically and then he used his friend Daniels to cash the checks so as to escape responsibility in cashing the transaction over came to light."

"As a result of that transaction he has had in his pocket $1,500 belonging to the county ever since the 15th day of August, 1901."

"Is it any defense for Mr. Dalton to say that Stedman is a thief and Oakes a liar? Admittedly, for the sake of argument that Stedman and Oakes were guilty parties to this transaction, that they participated in it from dishonest motives, which I deny, but that does not relieve Dalton. He was engaged in the transaction throughout and was the sole person to profit by the fraud. Admittedly, a poor simple creature under obligations to him, and Dalton used him for his purposes. Stedman was an employee of the Emperor with whom Dalton sustained pecuniary close relations."

"Stedman is a young man easily influenced and the circumstances of his position led him to do Dalton's bidding without question. These were the two instruments that Dalton used to consummate his fraud against the county. After which he sent Stedman and Oakes to discount the bogus orders, he used his friend Daniels to cash the checks that he might escape detection. When he asked Daniels to cash the checks he revealed the purpose in his mind, for Mr. Daniels, who would not betray himself even to save his friend, testified that Dalton said: 'I don't want to cash these checks because there has been so much talk about county officers discounting warrants.'"

DID NOT NEED BOOKS.
"Dalton didn't need the books, but great God, how he did need the money!"

TRACY LEAVES SHORT NOTE.

Says to "Tell Sheriff Cudihoe to Take a Tumble or He Will Fix Him Plenty."

SPOKANE, Wash., Aug. 5.—"To whom it may concern: Tell Mr. Cudihoe to take a tumble and let me alone or I will fix him plenty. I will be on my way to Wyoming. If your horses was any good would swap with you. Thanks for cool drink."

(Signed) "HARRY TRACY."

Such was the note found this morning by C. V. Drazon, a prominent farmer living about a mile north of Ollassee.

The note was pinned to the well, where he watered his horses.

His farm is not far from that off Mrs. Craben, who saw a mysterious man with two horses passing by her house Sunday night.

The scene of the great chase is slowly shifting toward the east.

Apparently the outlaw is in no hurry, having taken five days to cover a distance which a well-mounted man might have traversed in twenty-four hours.

The officers apparently are working on the theory that he is trying to reach the Rock Lake country in Northern Whitman county.

Three deputy sheriffs from Sprague started into the Colville Lake country this morning to investigate a rumor that Sheriff Carter was supposed to be working south and west of Harrington.

Up to noon no one who has seen the convict has been heard from.

LIVES LOST IN A COLLISION ON LAKE ERIE AT MIDNIGHT

OFFICERS CANNOT ACCOUNT FOR THE DISASTER AND IT LOOKS LIKE A CASE OF GROSS CARELESSNESS.

CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 5.—As a result of a collision on Lake Erie between the steamer City of Venice, owned and operated by the Venice, a steel lumber vessel, of Rondeau, Canada, at midnight, the former vessel was sunk and three lives were lost, while several other persons were more or less seriously injured.

The drowned: PETER SIMONSON, fireman, Brooklyn, N. Y.

THOMAS FLANIGAN, deck hand, Buffalo.

GEORGE WEIR, watchman, residence unknown.

Injured: John Sullivan, Chicago; contusion of back; will probably die.

J. A. McQuinn, Chryobogan, Mich., chief engineer City of Venice, are injured and body badly bruised.

Louis Hubecker, Chryobogan, Mich., arms and back badly bruised.

The cause of the collision is not known. The night was clear and the lights of the City of Venice were burning brightly. To this the crew and passengers all testified, saying they could see the lights on the Venice as she was sinking. The second mate of the Seguin, W. A. Lavigne, who was on watch, refuses absolutely to give any information in regard to the cause of the accident.

"Within a day or two he told Stedman that the order for 75 working rolls would have to be changed, and that on the 27th of August he took the place of the 75. This is absolutely proved by Mr. Read and the letters he addressed to the paper dealers. He ordered the stationery to fill the order for 75 books and then countermanded that order and then ordered him to get the 50 books."

"Mr. Foote ignores the facts in regard to the mortgage books. Mr. Dalton gave the order for the 50 mortgage books, which he used to get the money. As soon as he discovered that they were not necessary he told Stedman not to have them made, but he gave an order for something else to make up the equivalent in price. Is there anything wrong in a public official ordering one thing and then changing the order to something else?"

DECEIVED MR. DALTON.
"There would never have been the slightest trouble for Stedman who deceived Mr. Dalton and failed to carry out his instructions. Who disputes Mr. Dalton's explanations of the affair? Stedman, this is the witness who is shown to have $800 in his pocket that he received from Hadley by pretending to hypothecate 50 books with J. R. Lanktree. Why did he pretend to hypothecate the books with Lanktree, when he alleges that the money came from Mrs. Putnam through Hadley? Stedman took the money furnished by Hadley to Lanktree and took a check made out to 'cash.' He drew the money on this and alleges that he gave it to Mr. Dalton."

"This story is shown to be absolutely false. At the very time Stedman said he gave Mr. Dalton the money, Mr. Dalton was lying in the hospital and suffering from an injured leg. Can one of you jurymen say you do not believe that Mr. Dalton, who sat there and professed to have the money, was the man who gave it to Dalton?"

HE TRUSTED STEDMAN.
"Mr. Dalton is an old fellow because he trusted Stedman. I admit that he was perfectly imprudent in placing so much confidence, but it is not a crime to trust others. We all place confidence in others. Every business man is compelled to."

RENO MARRIAGES ALL RIGHT.

Supreme Court Declares That Marriages in Nevada
Are Binding.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 5.—The Supreme Court of California has upheld the "Reno marriage." It is a probable termination to a long string of tangled decisions and will be glad tidings to many who have wondered whether the next word from the lips of a judge would leave them one or sever the marriage ties.

Justice Garoutte has said it; Justice McFarland and Justice Henshaw concur; and Chief Justice Beatty has written a concurring opinion that makes the Supreme Court a unit.

A Reno marriage is now as reliable, as respectable, as safe and as valid as the church full of guests, a hall full of presents and clothes full of rice. The greatest tribunal of California has said that if a marriage is lawful in Nevada it is lawful here. It has placed its great seal of respectability upon the Reno marriage certificate and has made happy hundreds of anxious hearts.

FILED THIS MORNING.
The decision was filed this morning and is in the matter of the estate of Joseph M. Wood, deceased. Abbie Rose Wood is his widow, so says the court. She began suit against the estate for her portion and was opposed on the grounds that as she was divorced in California and had married Wood in Nevada prior to the expiration of the statutory requirement of one year, the marriage was not legal.

They were married at Reno January 1, 1898. Her divorce took place in the courts of California August 18, 1897, four and a half months prior to the wedding with Wood.

The case brought squarely to issue the point of the validity of this marriage. Her contest was based on the point that she was Wood's widow; the opposition was that she was not a widow, but the Reno marriage was null and void.

The Supreme Court has settled this point in favor of the widow.

"The decision puts the question to itself in this form: 'Was she a single woman at the time she married Wood in the State of Nevada?' For if she was a married woman in California at that time she was also a married woman in Nevada and therefore could not contract this second marriage."

"There is no finding of fact in this record," says the decision, "that these two people went to the State of Nevada to contract a marriage there in order to evade the laws of the State of their domicile. Such conduct has been held by courts of some jurisdiction to be a fraud upon the law of domicile and therefore not to be maintained."

"If the decree is not absolute these two could not remarry. If absolute they can marry whom they please. That is the logic of the decision. The divorce cannot be absolute as to each other, but not divorced as to any one else. By all laws, says the opinion, 'they are completely divorced to each other.'"

"The statute regarding remarriage cannot cross the State line. It has no effect in the State of Nevada or any other place in the world where it would be invalid and void."

"There is one little loophole in the decision. It is small, but a Judge might squeeze through."

WILD ACTS OF A DETECTIVE

Archie McDermid Violently Attacked a Woman With Whom He Had Been Talking.

The preliminary examination of Archibald McDermid, the private detective accused of grand larceny was resumed this morning before Judge Smith behind closed doors.

The complaining witness, Mrs. Farnell was put on the witness stand and was cross-examined by attorney Lin Church. From the questions asked it is probable that the defense will rely upon a plea of insanity for the acquittal.

The peculiar conduct of the defendant which was brought out on direct examination was emphasized by the cross-examination. It was shown that Saturday last that McDermid followed Mrs. Farnell to San Rafael during the carnival at that place, and had introduced the complaining witness as his wife, although she had rejected his attentions, and protested against his presence.

This morning the testimony was almost entirely sensational. On the night of the alleged theft McDermid called at the home of the complaining witness and engaged her in conversation. While seated in a chair, Miss Farnell says, the private detective suddenly, without the slightest warning, sprang upon her. He drew a "black jack" from his pocket and threatened to kill her and then commit suicide. Mrs. Farnell says she succeeded in quieting him for a few moments, when he again attacked her, this time throwing her to the floor and sitting on her until she was faint with terror and weak from the violence used. McDermid did not attempt to injure his victim beyond exhausting her sitting upon the prostrate woman.

This scene lasted half an hour at the end of which McDermid apologized to the complaining witness.

On direct testimony, two employees of the places where the ring and watch were pawned testified they had given McDermid the money for them.

Temporary insanity will in all probability be the defense. Testimony will be introduced showing McDermid on other occasions has given unmistakable signs of insane rage.

Archibald McDermid was discharged on the grounds that it was shown that the articles alleged to have been stolen were worth less than $50 thus making it petit larceny.

the scratch and smaller craft being allowed various times.

The start at 10 o'clock was a good one, the contestants crossing the line well bunched. Mr. St. James Fenders Brynild led slightly and the Meteor was in third place.

King Edward watched the start with keen interest and at 10 o'clock the Victoria and Albert steamed slowly in the direction of Ryde to meet the returning races.

The Meteor secured the lead at the eastern end of the course and was a long distance ahead when she recrossed the line at 1:40 and started on the westward leg. She needed all her speed, however, to overcome her severe handicap.

The Brynild won the race of the King's cup.

Meteor III finished second and Glory finished third.

The Brynild finished at 5:34, Meteor at 6:13 and Glory at 6:58.

During the afternoon the Victoria and Albert steamed up and re-entered the Solent in time to arrive at the Brynild when she received the winning flag.

The Leander finished fourth and the Flo- rinda fifth.

BERKELEY PROF. TELLS ABOUT THE TEXAS OIL

U. G. Astronomer Discovers A Bunch of New Stars—Notes From College Town.

BERKELEY, Aug. 5.—Professor Edmund O'Neil of the chemistry department of the State University, has recently returned from a trip through the oil fields of Texas, where he went to make a critical study of the Texas oil, comparing the conditions in Texas with those in California. Professor O'Neil said:

"Texas is experiencing very much the same depression as is now evident in the oil market of California. On the discovery of several large gushing wells such an enormous quantity was produced that the supply far outran the demand. As a result the bottom dropped out of the market and thousands of barrels of oil were sold for as low as three cents a barrel. This condition, however, is changing. Large steel storage tanks have been erected, and these with tanks made in the growing row contain millions of barrels.

"Texas is further finding a considerable market for its surplus oil in England and large tank steamers are now plying regularly between Europe and Ft. Arthur in the Gulf. A further market is found in the large number of engines which have been converted into oil burners in Texas. This has been carried much further there than it has been here.

"A curious effect of sprinkling roads with oil is to be found in the effect which it has upon rubber tires, both upon carriages and bicycles. The oil acts upon the rubber as a solvent and is, hence, very destructive upon them. Nevertheless as a couple of treatments with oil will settle the dust and the road is smoother from the point of economy, its advantages so outweigh the disadvantages. The Southern Pacific has sprinkled roads from Arizona through New Mexico to Texas with oil, and as a result, the journey can now be accomplished with much more comfort than formerly.

"The oil is very different from that of California. It is much lighter, contains less petroleum, but large quantities of sulphur. The sulphur is not detrimental for fuel purposes, but it is for refining purposes."

Speaking of the general conditions in California, Professor O'Neil said: "For the purpose of gasoline and asphaltum, the California oil is much superior to that of Texas. The large quantity of asphaltum in our oil, however, is not for many uses for which the Texas product is fitted.

"There will be plenty of demand for all the oil that can be produced. The consumption of coal is now equal to more than the total production of oil. The market for California's oil is to be found in California.

"The trust has not the same foothold in Texas as it has here," continued Professor O'Neil.

"The McGuffey Company is the largest corporation there, and has managed to retain its position independent of the Standard Company. There are also a large number of small owners, whom the trust has not as yet been able to freeze out."

Next year Professor O'Neil will go to Russia, where he will study the oil fields there. The results of his work will be published in a bulletin, which he, with the assistance of some of his students, is now preparing.

COMES FROM PERU TO ENTER UNIVERSITY.

BERKELEY, Aug. 5.—During the coming college year the University will add to its list of students the names of two young Peruvians, Manuel Romero and Francisco Romero, who come from Lima expressly to enter the University. The former will enroll in the college of civil engineering and the latter in the medical department. Manuel will enter the University without being able to speak a single word of English. His brother has been in San Francisco for about seven months, during which time he has acted as secretary to the Peruvian consul.

Manuel Romero is a graduate of the Government Engineering College of Lima. Professor Soule, after examining his certificates, pronounced him well qualified to enter the sophomore class in civil engineering, and said that with a slight effort he could easily graduate in two and a half years.

The father of the young men is a well-known railway engineer of Peru.

George Hoffmann, groceries and general merchandise, corner of Fifth and East Sixteenth street, says: "A case of hemorrhoids commonly called piles, came under my observation the Muscatine, Iowa, papers that city being my old home, that Doan's Ointment has been used in the vicinity amongst some of the best citizens and that the results obtained were so undoubted that I advised its use in the case referred to above. Doan's ointment at the time was asked for at the Owl Drug Store but they did not have it in stock and they sent East for it. It did its work thoroughly and well. Since then Doan's Ointment has been brought permanently before the residents of Oakland and I might add to the claims made for it that it can be depended upon to act just as represented."

EDUCATORS TRY COMPETITION IN VARNISHING OF DESKS.

The City Board of Education held a regular meeting last evening, at which G. H. Gray acted as president pro tem. In absence of President Redington, who is away on a vacation.

LEAVES OF ABSENCE. Leaves of absence were granted as follows: Miss F. Gilmore, three months; Miss Margaret R. Blyth, three months; Miss Elizabeth A. Packard of the High school, on account of illness, three months; Elizabeth Powell, principal of Grant school, six months; Miss Antoinette Smart of Peralta school, three months.

ELECTED. Miss Ruth Wille was elected to take the place of Miss F. Gilmore while the latter is on her leave of absence.

RESIGNATION. The following resignation was received from Maud Grady, a teacher in the Bay School:

"Berkeley, Calif., July 31, 1902. To the Honorable Board of Education—Gentlemen: I hereby tender my resignation as a teacher in the Oakland School Department."

"Thanking you for your kindness in the past, I am, very respectfully, 'MAUD GRADLEY.'"

ASKS FOR HELP. The following communication was read from John J. Murray, Private, asking for employment in the High school in order to pay his way through school:

"Gentlemen: I want to attend the Oakland High school, but, being outside of the city, I am not entitled to free tuition and my parents cannot afford to pay for it."

"I would be very grateful to you if you would give me some employment in the school, so I could work for my tuition. I hope my parents will be able to consider, I remain,

"JOHN J. MURRAY, Private."

Director Burton said that as a worthy cause and, upon investigation, the statements made in the letter were found to be true.

Director Wilcox thought that care should be taken, as if this request were granted it would only pave the way for others.

Dr. Knox thought that if a boy wanted to work for his education he was heartily in favor of letting him do so.

Superintendent of Schools McClymonds said that if a boy came up like this man and offered to work for his tuition, his offer should be accepted, and he only wished that there was something that girls similarly situated could do to pay for their education.

The Board finally decided to grant the young man's request, and the matter was referred to Superintendent McClymonds to procure suitable work for the applicant.

LINOLEUM FOR FLOORS. It was decided by the Board that hereafter, linoleum will be used on the floors of the principals' offices, and a resolution was passed to that effect.

SALARY IS FIXED. The report of the Finance Committee was read and adopted.

The salary of the assistants to the principals was fixed at $12 per year, the same as last year.

HALF-DAY SESSION. Director Wilcox stated that a little girl named Jessie Murray in the seventh grade of the Public School, had been working for her tuition by selling soap and her work now assumed such proportions that it became necessary for her to be permitted to remain away from school in the afternoon. Upon the motion of Dr. Knox it was so ordered.

Director Burton stated that a child of M. Isaacs was attending the Lincoln school, while under the present system a daughter just of school age would have to enter the Harrison school, and Director Burton made a motion that the Board should grant the younger little one permission to attend the Lincoln school with her sister, although it was out of her district. As there was no second, the motion was lost.

The members present were Directors Burton, Gray, Isaacs, Knox, Randolph, Robertson and Wilcox. Those absent were Directors Redington, Russ, Cliff and Evans.

Adjourned.

WELL DONE COUNCIL.

THREE-CENT CAR FARES.

Without division the entire community will applaud the action of the Council in regard to the Twelfth street dam. Nothing the Council has ever done will meet with more hearty and unanimous popular approval than the passage of the ordinance appropriating the necessary funds to reconstruct the dam. It is work that has been on the urgent necessity list for several years, and its authorization now is the fulfillment of a pledge made by every political party that put a ticket in the field at the last municipal election. Legal entanglements have caused the Council to proceed slowly, but the result has been thoroughly matured plans and an assurance that the improvement when completed, will be of great permanent benefit to the city. If the Council has been deliberate, it has been a deliberation required by the circumstances and dictated by a proper regard for the interests of the municipality.

The reconstruction of the Twelfth street dam fits in well with the general scheme of public improvements outlined in the resolution proposing a bond issue for certain municipal projects. It will be in harmony with the boulevard around Lake Merritt and the parking of the marsh lying between Eighth and Twelfth streets. It will also improve the lake as a flushing basin for the main lake sewer by permitting a heavier and freer tidal flow. In addition, it will transform the viaduct into a broad handsome thoroughfare befitting the great eastern and southern artery of the city.

The citizens of East Oakland are to be congratulated that the Council has at last relieved them of suspense and an incubus. The condition of the dam has long been a deadweight on the progress of their section of the city, which they have made repeated appeals to have removed. A new era of prosperity will dawn for the Seventh Ward when the dam has been improved in accordance with the plans approved by the Council. It is gratifying to record that not a vote was cast against the ordinance, and that every member of the Council acted from a sincere desire to promote a project of great importance and enormous value to the city.

THE BICYCLE ORDINANCE.

Experience has demonstrated that nominal fines are wholly unavailing to stop violations of the bicycle ordinance. When the penalty is only a fine of two or three dollars, the bicycle riders merely laugh at their ill-luck in getting caught, and proceed to repeat the offense before they are fairly out of sight of the City Hall. They are encouraged to do this because the danger of falling into the hands of the police is small, it being easy for a wheelman to evade arrest or detection by the swift use of his wheel and by the further fact that the fines are so light in the event of capture.

Either the ordinance should be repealed or enforced with more vigor, or rather punished with more drastic penalties. It is small encouragement for the police to do their duty when offenders after being arrested with great difficulty are let off with a nominal fine or a reprimand. One $20 fine will do more toward stopping riding bicycles on the sidewalk in defiance of the ordinance than twenty $2 fines. Such a fine seems severe, perhaps, for an offense involving no moral turpitude, but as the object is to prevent a growing abuse heavier fines seem necessary unless the ordinance be allowed to fall into ignominious disrepute.

Without disparaging the convenience of the wheel to business men, or the attractions of wheeling as a healthy exercise, it must be said that bicycle riding on the sidewalks is out of place in a city of any considerable size. It is doubtful as a matter of law and public policy, if it should be allowed on any walk or path dedicated to the use of pedestrians. Oakland is the only large city in the country that permits wheeling on the sidewalks. The practice is forbidden in certain business districts, but is permitted in all other parts of the city under certain restrictions. These are that the rider shall turn out or dismount on meeting or passing a pedestrian. Little attention is paid, however, to the restrictions.

People of the best class who know better than by pedestrians at a breakneck speed, often brushing their clothes so close that they come near colliding. They come from behind noiselessly like the wind, startling nervous people and endangering life and limb, for a step to one side or a sudden swerve of the wheel would cause a disastrous collision. Children playing on the sidewalks in the residence districts are injured, and aged or infirm people are put in constant uneasiness while going about the streets.

The practice of riding wheels on the sidewalk peculiar to Oakland subjects the city to unfavorable criticism from strangers. A visitor from Los Angeles remarked the other day: "You haven't much business or you wouldn't allow bicycle riding on the sidewalk." A San Francisco man looking for a residence in Oakland snorted out in disgust after a disagreeable experience, "I don't want to live in a town where you are even off the sidewalk by bicycles." These expressions accurately depict the impression our city makes on strangers.

The Maryland pastor who preached thirty years without salary would not be popular in modern politics. A salary is considered the main thing about a man nowadays.

It looks as if the street car conductors of Cleveland, Ohio, would soon be able to sing Mark Twain's refrain, "a blue trip slip for a three cent fare." The injunction against Mayor Tom Johnson's City Council has been dissolved and all the efforts to judicially nullify the Council's previous actions have been quashed. Tom Johnson has been fighting the street railway companies of Cleveland for a long time, and he rode into office on a pledge to give three cent fares. Balked in his attempt to have the fares reduced by ordinance, he induced the Council to grant other street railway franchises conditioned on three cent fares. Then began a battle in the courts, with the result that the Attorney General of the State began proceedings to oust the Council as an illegal body. This move was partially successful in that the Council was declared to be illegally constituted from a technical standpoint, but its acts in granting the franchises are declared to be beyond attack, as the Council is the de facto legislative body of the city. This is an affirmation of a time honored principle of law imbedded in the doctrine that legislation cannot be attacked by attacking the legality of the legislative body or questioning the right of its members to sit. So long as a man sits in a legislative body he is entitled to vote, and that's the end of it. Now we will see what Tom Johnson will do with his three cent fare victory. It is generally believed that he means to use it mainly for political purposes.

CHARLES F. CURRY.

So far not a single candidate has appeared to contest the right of Charles F. Curry to a renomination for Secretary of State. This is negative but convincing testimony to Mr. Curry's popularity and excellent record. That Mr. Curry is one of the most competent members of the State government is a matter beyond dispute. He has greatly improved the methods of transacting business in his office and has brought about a more perfect system. His previous training as County Clerk of San Francisco had peculiarly qualified him to make the necessary administrative reforms in the Secretary of State's office, and these reforms he has carried out thoroughly. As a member of the State Board of Examiners and of the Board of State Capitol Commissioners, Mr. Curry has shown himself a capable and worthy official. His record has elicited only favorable criticism, while the courtesies extended to all having business with his office cause him to be kindly remembered throughout the State. Mr. Curry will probably be renominated by acclamation and re-elected by a rousing majority. He is the right man in the right place, and richly deserves another term.

As the Twelfth of August grows near the fear that the Democrats will carry the Republican primary becomes more hysterically expressed or rather professed. But its all clothed nonsense, you know.

WON'T BENEFIT UNION CARMEN

BOYER'S ORDINANCE IS NOT LEGAL. TWO ORDINANCES OF TRANSIT ARE PASSED.

Boyer's ordinance, which makes it necessary for all corporations to employ union car men to obtain a franchise to operate an electric railway, will not be of special benefit to the car men, as City Attorney Johnson last night stated before the Council that the conditions could not be incorporated into the franchise.

That the City Council had a right to pass such an ordinance was conceded by the City Attorney, but in his opinion the conditions could not be made a part of the franchise.

"Such an ordinance," Johnson said, "would merely be an expression of opinion of the Council. This is a prerogative of the municipal legislative body. A resolution would answer as well. But that the Council has a right to declare the ordinance shall not employ any men other than union men is equivalent to saying they shall not employ Masons, Presbyterians or the members of any other order. For that reason I do not believe Mr. Boyer's ordinance to be valid, although the Council has a right to express its opinion on the matter."

The City Attorney stated that this opinion was an informal one.

On motion of Councilman Boyer the matter was referred to the City Attorney for a written opinion.

Immediately thereafter the Council passed an ordinance granting the Oakland Transit a franchise on portions of Twelfth street, Shattuck avenue, Adeline street and Kirkland street, between Twelfth and Thirteenth streets, thence to Center street.

An ordinance granting the application of the Oakland Transit Company for a franchise for street railway upon portions of Spruce Linden, Fourteenth and Sixteenth streets was also passed to print.

Sold all over the world.

PERSONAL AND SOCIAL NOTES

AN INTERESTING ENGAGEMENT IS ANNOUNCED IN BERKELEY.

An engagement interesting to Berkeley and San Francisco society circles has just been announced. It is that of Miss Katharine Frances Keys of Berkeley to William Theodore Hess, the San Francisco attorney, just announced by the mother of the bride-to-be, Mrs. J. B. Keys. The news comes as a surprise to the many friends of both families, for, though the young people have been acquaintances for twelve years, there has been no suggestion of a deeper attachment.

Miss Keys is the daughter of the late John B. Keys, prominent among San Francisco brokers. During her five years' residence in Berkeley her beauty and vivacity have won her popularity among a large circle of friends. She was graduated from the University of California last May, having previously completed her full college course six months ahead of her class, distinguishing herself by the unusually brilliant record she made in her studies.

Hess is the son of Frederick Hess, the proprietor of the California Democrat. He is a graduate of Hastings Law College and is now a member of the legal firm of Harris and Hess. Besides a successful law practice, he is prominently identified with several mining and mercantile ventures.

The engagement reception will be given in a week or two at the Hess residence, 321 California street. The date of the wedding has not been set.

OAKLAND WILL PLAY ANGELS

FIRST GAME OF THE SERIES WILL BE PLAYED AT GOLDEN GATE.

Tomorrow afternoon will mark the opening of a six game series between the Lohmanites and Angels. The league leaders and Los Angeles players are scheduled for nine innings at Golden Gate baseball park this afternoon. Hodgen will pitch for the Oakland and with Judge McCredie back in harness Oakland should win.

The first new man to appear in Oakland harness since the opening of the season will be Hartwell. He has been added to the pitching staff by Field Manager Lohman, and is due to make his initial bow with the Lohmanites during the week.

Uncle Hank has signed another easterner to play with the Shetlands. His name is Arthur Williams, late of the Chicago Nationals, and with Phyle, the new third baseman, will leave the east today for the coast. Harris expects to have this pair in harness when next his team clashes with the Lohmanites. With their assistance he expects to reduce Oakland's lead in the race for the pennant.

Shay will marshal the forces of the Ponies in the series at Sacramento this week. Harris says he knows all the fine plays, and will get more work out of the men than Shugart did.

C. J. HEESEMAN IS HOME.

AFTER A MONTH'S SOJOURN IN EASTERN CITIES SELECTING A NEW FALL STOCK.

After a month's absence in various Eastern cities Mr. Charles J. Heese-man, the well-known merchant, returned to Oakland on Sunday last. The gentleman's visit was one of business principally, his main object in making his tour was to select an immense fall stock for his mammoth establishment in this city. In this regard Mr. Heese-man succeeded in securing one of the most varied and largest invoices in ready-made clothing for men and boys ever introduced in Oakland, also a selected stock of hats and furnishing goods. Mr. Heese-man's trade here is increasing at a wonderful rate, his business by long odds is leading all others in his line hereabouts. Mr. Heese-man says the condition of business affairs throughout the country indicated that prosperity reigned throughout the land. He enjoyed his trip immensely, but at the same time he was glad to return home—the land of sunshine and flowers—where tornadoes, blizzards, hurricanes, and sunstrokes are unknown.

CITY COUNCIL WILL IMPROVE THE DAM.

An Ordinance Is Passed to Print Appropriating $40,000 for the Much Needed Work.

The City Council unanimously passed to print last night, under a suspension of the rules, an ordinance transferring $40,000 from the Park and Boulevard Fund to the Street Fund for the immediate improvement of the Twelfth street dam.

A resolution of intention of doing the work was also introduced and referred to the Street Committee.

In conjunction with the proposed improvement of the dam an ordinance changing the grade of Fallon street to conform the grade of the dam was finally passed.

Fallon street will also be widened twenty feet on the north side up to the rock wall.

The passage of the ordinance last night marks a new step in the history of Oakland. Merchants and citizens in all walks of life have for years regarded the present dam an eyesore, and a real detriment to the commercial prosperity of the city. When the dam is completed it will be a perfect piece of roadway and will facilitate the flow of trade and commerce between East Oakland and the town proper to a wonderful extent.

According to the plans of the City Engineer Turner the proposed improvement will cost approximately $58,800. The Council thought it an act of wisdom to provide $200 more for contingencies and to insure a thorough workmanlike job.

The dam itself will be provided with a gate for the accommodation of the tides of the Estuary and Lake Merritt. The street will be macadamized with Class "B" macadam, which will insure a depth of about nine inches to the roadway.

The city has secured a deed to a strip of land twenty feet wide on the north side of Fallon street. This will be graded and ungraded as will the rest of the street, the grade being changed to conform to the grade of the dam.

The Council passed the ordinance unanimously. The next step in completing the great thoroughfare will be advertising for bids.

CHARITIES WILL BE INVESTIGATED

At a meeting of the City Council last night, Comptroller Chairman requested that the claim of the Associated Charities for $40, which was paid over one month at a meeting of the Council committees last January, be brought before the Council for consideration.

The matter was carried unanimously. Comptroller Wilson stating that the only object in having the claim over was to investigate how the association had been annually getting the money.

President Schaffer upon motion of Comptroller Wilson moved that the City Engineer be authorized to investigate the claim of the Associated Charities for $40, which was paid over one month at a meeting of the Council committees last January, be brought before the Council for consideration.

The dam itself will be provided with a gate for the accommodation of the tides of the Estuary and Lake Merritt. The street will be macadamized with Class "B" macadam, which will insure a depth of about nine inches to the BOARD OF EDUCATION GRANTS NUMBER OF LEAVES OF ABSENCE.

At a meeting of the City Board of Education last night the committee on school houses and sites reported on the protest of the Painters Union as follows:

"To the Honorable Board of Education, City of Oakland:

"At the last regular meeting of the Board a communication received from the Painter's Union, protesting against certain work being performed by the janitors, was referred to the Committee on School Houses and Sites, and we herewith submit the following report:

"We believe the people, in electing the members of the present School Board to office, did so with the conviction that all matters pertaining thereto would be carefully and intelligently attended to. Your committee has endeavored, at all times, to keep the buildings and grounds in the best possible order with the least expenditure of money. So far as we are informed, it has been the custom, in past years, when a vacancy occurred in the janitor's department, to secure, if possible, a mechanic or "handyman" to fill the position. Janitors must at all times keep their buildings and grounds in first-class order. During vacation, the school property must be kept in good order, the janitors are on the premises daily, and it has been their duty in the past, during vacation, to thoroughly renovate the building, clean and varnish desks and paint the steps, when necessary. The communication says: 'Should this work be done by janitors, handy men, or political hacks, the city will not get what it pays for.' We have endeavored to do this work, but we have failed. As to whether the city gets what it pays for, we do not think any fair-minded person would question, as the expense simply involves the cost of the material and brushes.

"We have 10,000 seats and desks in the department and the cost of material and brushes for varnishing them this year was $120, making the actual cost of 12-10 cents per desk. This is a very small sum, and we would respectfully ask the superintendent when it becomes again necessary to do this work, that he secure a person who will not get what it pays for, but will do the work as it should be done with less expense to the city than it has heretofore, to allow it to be done by contract.

"The committee has endeavored at all times to employ union labor, and have, at the present time, carpenters, painters and plumbers working in the department, all agreeing to their respective organizations.

"Respectfully submitted,

"Directors RANDOLPH, ROBERTSON, STANLEY, and THOMPSON.

The report of the committee was unanimously adopted and a copy ordered sent to the Painters Union.

PETITIONERS.

The convention assembled at 9:45 o'clock.
